THE WAR IN GEORGIA.

MOVEMENTS OF JOHNSTON AND SHERMAN.

[From the Confederacy of the 28th.]

FROM THE FRONT—SHERMAN'S NEW MOVE.

Judging from his most recent demonstrations on our right, it would appear that the Federal commander is endeavoring to press us back from the front of the railroad near Acworth, and possess himself of that position, as a basis for further aggressive operations. If this could be consummated Sherman could move down the road, bringing up his supplies by rail as far as the Etowah, his trains being secure beyond that stream.

The movement by flank upon our left seems to have been abandoned and the Federal troops massed, and the skill and energy of their director concentrated upon the right wing of our army, bearing in the direction of the railroad at Acworth. For the past twenty-four or forty-eight hours his main strength seems to have been bent against our right wing, where our cavalry have been occasionally forced back.

Hardee's corps, at one time moved to the extreme left, has, we understand, been transferred to our extreme right. It is impossible to give any definite idea as to the position and formation of lines. Thus far, in every attempt to force our right the enemy has been met and checked. An intelligent and well informed officer, in a position in the field to judge of the situation, writes: "Everything is on the move; apparently seeking position for line of battle. It is hard to divine Gen. Johnston's real intentions, he keeps everything so much to himself, but from all I can see, I am inclined to think he intends giving them battle if they come square up to us. We are about fifteen miles from Marietta. I know so little of the country that I am unable to describe the exact locality of our army. Forrest is certainly moving into Tennessee. Roddy has captured Florence, Alabama. The work will soon commence."

Since the affair at New Hope Church, in which the enemy, and Hooker's corps especially, were so severely punished there has been no engagement of consequence, but occasional skirmishes, as the lines manœuvring, came into collision.

P. S.—Since the above was in type we have received telegraphic information of a spirited engagement between Cleburn's division and the fourth army corps (Federal) under Howard, in which the enemy was repulsed with great slaughter. The latest account states that the enemy's left is gradually giving way.

It is the general impression that a battle will be fought to-day. All the relief committees here have been ordered up, and the indications are favorable for a general engagement.

[From the Appeal of the 29th.]

FROM THE FRONT.

Our scouts have skirted the entire Federal rear. They reported on Friday night, as the result of their observation, that no trains had been run below Kingston since Saturday last, and no wagon trains from that point since Wednesday last. They state that the Federals keep close together, in consequence of which they captured only one prisoner. He reports that Forrest had captured Dalton, and it was feared Chattanooga. Forrest is believed to have divided his forces, one-half attacking Chattapooga from above, and the other Dalton. Other Federal prisoners confirm the statement of the general opinion in their army that Forrest had taken Dalton. A scout belonging to Jackson's cavalry writes us from Marietta, 26th, that "on the 25th instant, while on a scout, he learned at Cassville that Gen. Forrest had taken Chattanooga and burned all the Yankee supplies there, and was coming on in Sherman's rear. Woolford's Yankee cavalry reported this to the citizens at Cassville as a fact. Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Dalton, on the 25th inst., at Cassville Woolford's Kentucky cavalry are stationed four miles from Cassville, on the Kingston road. There are none of the enemy at Cassville. They treated the citizens remarkably well in this locality."

On Friday evening, Cleburne is reported to have captured two or three hundred Federals, all that was left of the regiment.

It is rumored that W. Parks and Capt. Harris, inspector general of Vaughn's staff, were killed, but we trust that it is unfounded.

The Yankees were stooped with liquor, and came up to a charge, at first, finely, but ran back quickly, not standing fire or fighting as well as at Resaca. They have quit charging and gone to digging.

The enemy commenced moving on our right yesterday morning, evidently with the intention of getting back to the railroad. This General Johnston seems not disposed to permit. Dispatches received in this city announce that the engagement became general at noon yesterday, and up to the latest accounts we were repulsing the enemy at all points. From all the indications, it is believed that in all probability, this holy Sabbath day will witness the greatest struggle of the war. Our troops are alive to the importance of the occasion. May God nerve their arms for the trial and give them a complete and decisive victory. Several hundred men, belonging to Cheatham's, Cleburne's and Walker's divisions, who were wounded on Friday morning, arrived here yesterday evening.

Since writing the above, regular press reports from the battle-field have come in, announcing glorious successes on our side, corroborating our statements in part.

Quartermaster's Office, C. S. A.,
Raleigh, June 1st 1864.

STRAW IS URGENTLY REQUIRED TO MAKE bedding for the wounded soldiers at the Hospitals of this post.

I appeal to all who have any on hand to bring it in immediately.

They will not only perform a patriotic duty in alleviating the sufferings of our wounded veterans, but can secure ample compensation.

FRENCH BROAD LANDS FOR SALE.

GLEN CANNON FARM, TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS FARM LIES ON THE FRENCH BROAD River, within five miles of Brevard, the county town, and is extensively known as the best tract of land, and the most productive property in the county, and probably in Western North Carolina. In salubrity of climate, beauty of scenery, location and fertility of soil, it is unsurpassed by any property in the State. It consists of 1,210 acres land, 400 of which are first quality French Broad bottom, all of which, with the exception of 40 or 50 acres, are cleared and under a high state of cultivation, thoroughly drained and excellent fences, most of which are new lath fencing on locust posts. 2,675 bushels of corn were gathered from 28 acres of this land with ordinary cultivation and without any fertilizer ever having been applied to it. Ninety acres are laid down in the most approved mode, to the grasses and afford heavy crops of hay and excellent pastures. The balance of the tract, say 810 acres, is the heaviest and best timbered mountain land.

The whole tract is under one boundary and may be subdivided advantageously, there being four very eligible and beautiful building sites, with bottom land attached.

On the premises is a good cottage residence, of five rooms, each with a fire place, kitchen, servant houses, ice house, storeroom, diary, smokehouse, framed corn crib, capacity, 3,500 bushels ear corn, one double and five single negro houses, two tenant settlements, an excellent saw and grist mill, all built within thirteen years by the proprietor. The saw mill is driven by an overshot wheel of 28 feet in diameter, and is located at one of the most beautiful water falls of about 100 feet in height and equal to 150 horse power, and only fifteen minutes walk from the residence.

This property for this year is under rent to Gen. Smith, of East Tennessee, who will give any information desired during the absence of the proprietor.

The price for these lands is ($160,000) one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Payment may be made in Confederate stock at the market value at Columbia, S. C., at time of sale.

With the above property can be purchased twelve remarkably prime and orderly negroes, being a picked gang accustomed to the culture of the farm in the most careful and cleanly style. Among them are four men, three women and five children. The men are excellent plowmen, mowers, cradlers, &c., one is a good carpenter. Of the women, one is an excellent cook and spinner. The children are from 1 to 6 years of age. Also the farm tools, consisting in part of plows, harrows, horse rake, field roller, corn planters, sorgho mill, molasses boilers, corn sheller, straw cutters, timber carts, &c., &c. Also the stock of highly improved cattle.

Address McK. JOHNSTONE,
Care of ANDREW JOHNSTONE,
Flat Rock, N. C.

N. B.—I think I can take the liberty with Judge R. M. Saunders and the Right Rev. Bishop Atkinson, of offering them as references in regard to the value, &c., of my farm.

My cattle consists of 15 head, and my sheep of about 80 head.

I have a considerable lot of lumber and 30,000 shingles on hand.

I will take $200,000 for the land, negroes stock, farm tools, lumber, &c. &., or will sell separately.
